In its latest against-stereotype move, the Showtime series about lesbians, "The 'L' Word," has spun off a limited-edition line of hip and sexy clothing and accessories.

Called the "L"ements of Style, the collection will be sold through Feb. 28 at Ultimo, 114 E. Oak St., and at sho.com/site/lword.

Look for lean jeans and skirts from Blue Cult denim, clutch purses from TES and embellished tanks from Laura Dahl. A standout is the Love and Pride jewelry collection, designed especially for the gay market by Udi Behr, whose other pieces have been worn by celebrities such as Britney Spears.

A portion of sales will be donated to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer foundation and the Dr. Susan Love Research foundation.
